PFF

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

As we reflect on another year of service, growth, and transformation, I feel immense pride in the work we have accomplished together. This year, we faced challenges and embraced new opportunities that have strengthened our ability to make a lasting impact.

We experienced legislative changes that affected PFF, but our staff remained resilient and persevered, allowing us to continue serving individuals throughout the state. Looking ahead, we recognize that further legislative changes will present challenges and opportunities, and we are confident in our ability to navigate them effectively.

A STORY OF IMPACT

39TH ANNUAL NATIONAL
DISABLED VETERANS
WINTER SPORTS CLINIC

CHECK OUT THE EVENT CODY
ATTENDED

STORY OF IMPACT CONTINUE:

CODY HAUGEN:
US AIR FORCE VETERAN

PFF provides Cody with Individual Home Services. Cody was in a motorcycle accident in 2019 in Anchorage, Alaska which led him needing services from PFF to help him get his independence back. Recently, Cody attended the National Disabled Veterans Winter Sports Clinic in Colorado for the first time. He was able to ski down the mountain three times, swam in the hot springs, scuba dived, and, on race day, skied down the mountain in 24 seconds.

This event gave Cody inspiration to attend other Veteran's events across the United States.

"I am finally getting back to activities I did before my accident" Cody

A letter from the Administrator

In 2024, PFF continued to progress with change. I connected with the staff through the organization this past year. We worked together closely to create change within PFF. PFF successfully launched a new electronic payroll system last year. It took many dedicated staff members to complete. We continue to empower the staff to do their best to succeed. From rearranging different structures within PFF this year, to different approaches to problems that have arisen, PFF has continued with its mission and Vision. Looking ahead to 2025, we remain focused on sustainable growth, inclusivity, and continued excellence. We are excited about the future and are grateful to continue this work together.
